

CENTRE OF BIOMEDICAL ETHICS AND CULTURE
Sindh Institute of Urology and Transplantation

Muhammad Atif Waqar

Biosketch

Dr. Muhammad Atif Waqar, MD, is an Assistant Professor with the Department of Oncology at the Aga Khan University in Karachi, Pakistan (AKUH-K). He is the Section Head for the Palliative Medicine services at AKUH-K and has been instrumental in developing the multidisciplinary palliative care services across various domains and care settings in the institution.

Dr. Waqar has board certification in Internal Medicine, Hospice/Palliative Medicine and Geriatric Medicine, with the American Board of Internal Medicine. Prior to relocating to Pakistan, he was the Medical Director for Home Based Palliative Care Services at the VA Sierra Nevada Healthcare System in Reno Nevada, USA. He also served as a Clinical Assistant Professor & Associate Program Director for the Hospice and Palliative Medicine Fellowship at the University of Nevada, School Of Medicine in Reno Nevada, USA. He has extensive experience in the realms of long term care, home based medical care, palliative and end of life care.

CENTRE OF BIOMEDICAL ETHICS AND CULTURE