

CENTRE OF BIOMEDICAL ETHICS AND CULTURE

Sindh Institute of Urology and Transplantation

Natasha Anwar

Biosketch

Dr. Natasha Anwar is a Consultant Molecular Pathologist and Research Scientist. She did her doctorate in Infectious Diseases from Imperial College School of Medicine, University of London and is an alumnus of CBEC's Postgraduate Diploma in Biomedical Ethics. She has a Masters in Bioethics from the Centre of Biomedical Ethics and Culture (CBEC), Karachi.

Dr. Anwar works as a Consultant Molecular Pathologist with the Aga Khan University Hospital Regional Laboratory, Lahore. She is also an Associate Faculty at CBEC. Dr. Anwar serves as a member of the Punjab Bioethics Research Committee. She has been involved in genetic testing and research in Pakistan and has been teaching and creating awareness about ethical issues related to human genetics, genomes, and genomic data. Dr. Anwar regularly participates as a speaker and facilitator in national conferences and workshops of bioethics on a variety of topics including genetic technologies, ethical issues in clinical laboratory medicine and professionalism, health data privacy and confidentiality, COVID vaccine global inequities. She has authored scientific papers as well as ethics-related articles, which have been published in international journals.

CENTRE OF BIOMEDICAL ETHICS AND CULTURE