

CENTRE OF BIOMEDICAL ETHICS AND CULTURE

Sindh Institute of Urology and Transplantation

Aasim Ahmad

Biosketch

Professor Aasim Ahmad, FCPS MHSc (Bioethics), has a longstanding interest in Bioethics. He is Dean & Chief Nephrologist at The Kidney Centre Post Graduate Training Institute and Honorary Senior Lecturer (Bioethics) at the Aga Khan University, Karachi.

He is a Member of the Ethics Review Committees of Aga Khan University, Ziauddin University and Chair of IRB at Jinnah Sindh Medical University, Karachi. He is also a member of Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF).

He is a member of the WHO COVID-19 Ethics & Governance Working Group (formerly WHO Working Group on Ethics & COVID-19), and member and proposed chair of the Contact Tracing Guideline Development Group.

Dr. Ahmad's areas of interest in bioethics are capacity building, research ethics, disaster ethics, and biobanking. He has contributed to book chapters, published many papers, and given presentations related to research ethics.

CENTRE OF BIOMEDICAL ETHICS AND CULTURE